CASE STUDY: PRINCIPAL DEVELOPMENT

Tesla at TaylorPort

Industrial Rail-Served Lease Build-to-Suit

TaylorPort Phase 2 delivered a highly specialized, rail-served build-to-suit facility under a long-term lease with a global advanced manufacturing user. Partners Development executed a 10-year build-to-suit lease for a 183,340 SF Class A industrial building featuring direct rail access, four dock-high doors, eight grade-level doors, full HVAC buildout, five cranes, and a dedicated rail entry door—designed to support mission-critical operations. Throughout development, Partners operated under a strict NDA, advancing entitlements, construction, and delivery without the ability to publicly disclose the tenant. Following completion, lease-up, and disposition of the asset to Manulife, it is now known that Tesla was the end user—a natural fit given Tesla’s long-standing use of the adjacent 755-acre RCR Taylor Rail Logistics Park auto ramp to support vehicle logistics from its eastern Travis County Gigafactory. Phase 2 underscores Partners Development’s ability to deliver complex, confidential build-to-suit projects for globally recognized occupiers.
